Claims 1-10, 12-27 and 40-44 have been cancelled. The active claims are 11, 28-39.

The present abstract is not clear. It appears that a peripheral device could not be enabled by mere download a packet from a server to an integrated circuit. It is not clear what the IC does to the peripheral device such that it is considered as enabled.

The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. A nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting rejection is appropriate where the conflicting claims are not identical, but at least one examined application claim is not patentably distinct from the reference claim(s) because the examined application claim is either anticipated by, or would have been obvious over, the reference claim(s). See, e.g., In re Berg, 140 F.3d 1428, 46 USPQ2d 1226 (Fed. Cir. 1998); In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) or 1.321(d) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent either is shown to be commonly owned with this application, or claims an invention made as a result of activities undertaken within the scope of a joint research agreement.

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

Claims 1-10 of patent USP 6,356,942 contain every element of claims 11 and 28-39 of the instant application and as such anticipate claims 11 and 28-39 of the instant application.

"A later patent claim is not patentably distinct from an earlier patent claim if the later claim is obvious over, or anticipated by, the earlier claim. In re Longi, 759 F.2d at 896, 225 USPQ at 651 (affirming a holding of obviousness-type double patenting because the claims at issue were obvious over claims in four prior art patents); In re Berg, 140 F.3d at 1437, 46 USPQ2d at 1233 (Fed. Cir. 1998) (affirming a holding of obviousness-type double patenting where a patent application claim to a genus is anticipated by a patent claim to a species within that genus). " ELI LILLY AND COMPANY v BARR LABORATORIES, INC., United States Court of Appeals for the Federal Circuit, ON PETITION FOR REHEARING EN BANC (DECIDED: May 30, 2001).

Claims 11, 28-31 and 37-39 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

The term "enabling" is vague and indefinite. See claim 11 for example. It is not clear what the peripheral device is enabled to do by the IC. Further, there is nothing the processor did to the peripheral device. The processor is recited merely for communicating with a server in packets. It is not seen how the processor as recited could enable the peripheral device to do anything. Claim 37-39 have similar defects.

The word "to" in line 4 of claim 11 should be deleted.

The text of those sections of Title 35, U.S. Code not included in this action can be found in a prior Office action.

Claims 11 and 28-39 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Gentry (USP 5,778,180) in view of Johnson (USP 5,764,896).

Details of the rejection have already been set forth in the last Office action. The details are incorporated herein by reference thereto.

In the communication filed on October 22 2005, Applicants agree that Gentry teaches a NIC for transceiving information between a network and a user computer.

Art Unit: 2155

Applicants contend, however, that user computer is not peripheral devices and that there is no teaching of downloading OS from a network to the peripheral device. First, the claims call for an IC and not a peripheral device as their invention. There is nothing recited in the claims as to what the peripheral does. The only requirement for the peripheral device in the claims is to receive what is transmitted to it from the IC. The user computer of Gentry clearly meets the requirement. As to the downloaded data labeled as OS, since the peripheral is not recited to do anything, the label Operating System is immaterial. Further, only computer requires Operating System and a peripheral device requires only driver and not Operating System. Since Gentry teaches user computer as admitted, it is even more likely for the user computer of Gentry to receive an Operating System if it needs one.

Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
